Questions from Rep. Eric Burlison

1. Does any branch of the United States government, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), possess technology derived from a non-human source?
2. Does any branch of the United States military, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), employ exotic materials of non-human or non-terrestrial origin in any application, including aircraft and watercraft?
3. Has the United States government, or defense contractors, made new breakthroughs in physics that are currently undisclosed to the general public, including at the University level?
4. Are you aware of any evidence or indication that the United States military, or defense contractors, have recovered craft of non-human origin?
 - a. (If yes) – Were there non-human entities associated with these craft?
 - b. (If yes) – Were the non-human entities recovered alive?
5. Is it possible that UAPs are extra-dimensional rather than extraterrestrial? What I mean by that is—is it possible that UAPs might not fit the traditional narrative of aliens from another planet but could instead be entities from other dimensions.
6. Have there been any reported incidents of USO’s tracking or disrupting the operation of underwater craft, including nuclear submarines?

INNOVATION AND
SUBCOMMITTEE ON NATIONAL SECURITY, THE BORDER, AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

1. Question: Does any branch of the United States government, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), possess technology derived from a non-human source?

Answer: I have seen no direct evidence that any branch of the United States government, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), possess technology derived from a non-human source. However, I am in contact with credible former U.S. government officials who have indicated to me that such evidence exists. Some of them wish to remain anonymous, some have gone public with this information, and two have testified about this before Congress.

2. Does any branch of the United States military, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), employ exotic materials of non-human or non-terrestrial origin in any application, including aircraft and watercraft?

Answer: I have seen no evidence that and have no knowledge about any branch of the United States military, or defense contractors (aerospace and otherwise), employing exotic materials of non-human or non-terrestrial origin in any application, including aircraft and watercraft?

3. Has the United States government, or defense contractors, made new breakthroughs in physics that are currently undisclosed to the general public, including at the University level?

Answer: I have seen no evidence of and have no knowledge about the United States government, or defense contractors, having made new breakthroughs in physics that are currently undisclosed to the general public, including at the University level?

4. Are you aware of any evidence or indication that the United States military, or defense contractors, have recovered craft of non-human origin?

Answer: I have seen no direct evidence that the United States military, or defense contractors, have recovered craft of non-human origin. However, I am in contact with credible former U.S. government officials who have indicated to me that such evidence exists. Some of them wish to remain anonymous, some have gone public with this information, and two have testified about this before Congress.

a. (If yes) – Were there non-human entities associated with these craft?

b. (If yes) – Were the non-human entities recovered alive?

5. Is it possible that UAPs are extra-dimensional rather than extraterrestrial? What I mean by that is—is it possible that UAPs might not fit the traditional narrative of aliens from another planet but could instead be entities from other dimensions.

Answer: I do not have a sufficient understanding of physics to confirm or refute the possibility that UAPs are extra-dimensional rather than extraterrestrial.

6. Have there been any reported incidents of USO's tracking or disrupting the operation of underwater craft, including nuclear submarines?

Answer: I have heard one report from a former U.S. Navy ballistic missile submarine officer who detected a USO on sonar which forced the crew to take evasive maneuvers. That former officer is very credible but wishes to remain anonymous.
